New Year's Day Score Event.....

Ten teams of three or more competed at Cottingham (population 17,000) last Friday. Fortunately the weather was fair, the terrain was flat and the streets were quiet. There was a total of 20 controls to collect in a 45 minute score event. Only Charlotte Ward managed all twenty, with Danny Chan not far behind on 17.

Time penalties were plentiful, as were the mince pies and sausage rolls afterwards. In the end the "ad-hoc" team of Joe Field, Danny Chan, David and Elspeth Jolly won by the narrowest of margins, tied on points, but one minute quicker than their rivals. Meaning we now have a choice of three possible venues for next year, depending on who takes up the planning mantle.

Thanks go to Brian Ward for planning this year, Paul and Patricia Simmons for organising and cooking, Brian and Ingrid Slater for support and all those who attended and helped out in anyway.

Thanks also to Pete Harris for a tough New Year quiz, won by the Field Family on 25 points. If you want to give it a go, the quiz is now on the website.
